

ABSTRACT

The slurry for carrying zeolite of the present invention is slurry for attaching zeolite to a carrier and comprises zeolite and an organic emulsion binder dispersed in water. This slurry for carrying zeolite has viscosity not excessively high in spite of a large content of zeolite and binder and has a pH at which the zeolite and binder are stable. The slurry therefore can be stored for a long time in a stable manner.